6	Statistical Office of the Republic of Serbia	Development of the system of leading indicators 025214	The concept of leading composite indicators is an analytical tool in forecasting cyclical trends of economic activities. It includes the detection of turning cyclical points, minimum and maximum, in order to result in anticipating the phase of the economic cycle of the domestic economy in the future period. All developed composite indicators of the SORS by sectors are made of a large number of weighted indicators of each sector individually. In detecting the variables that are used in the presented composite indicators all macroeconomic areas and the surveys on business expectations are analysed. This is done according to the Eurostat methodology. The developed system of composite leading indicators of the SORS are ahead of the cycles of economic activity, on average for about six months and, in combination with econometric models, it enables quantitative evaluation of the dynamics of the annual growth rate of economic activity on the short-term, on quarterly and annual level.
